CIVILIAN FOOD SHORTAGE NOT EASED UP YET

PINCH TO BE FELT FOR 12 MONTHS, NATION TOLD

Washington, July 28 (AP)—The Bureau of Agricultural Economics advised civilians today to expect no significant relief from food shortages within the next 12 months.

In a report on the national food situation, the bureau—which is the agriculture department's statistical agency—said such foods as meats, fats and vegetable oils, sugar, cheese, condensed and evaporated milk, poultry, eggs, canned fruits and canned vegetables will continue short in relation to demands.

In addition, rice, dry beans, apples, and processed foods using large amounts of sugar and fats and oils may become short, it said.

On the other hand, civilian supplies of fluid milk, skim milk products, canned fruit juices, many fresh vegetables and fruits including citrus fruits, fresh fish, and most grain products are expected by the bureau to be fairly plentiful.

Distribution Is Problem

Listed as the basic food problem of the United States in 1945 was how to distribute an over-all food output one-third greater than in 1935-39 to meet an over-all civilian, military, and export demand approximately one-half greater than the pre-war demand.

Present plans indicate that the 1945 food supply will be distributed about as follows: U. S. civilians 77 per cent, armed forces—including relief feeding by the military—17 per cent, government purchases for lend-lease and civilian relief abroad 4 to 5 per cent, and other commercial exports 1 to 2 per cent.

The bureau said over-all supplies of meats for civilians may be a little larger this winter than in recent months, but that most of the seasonal increase in meat production will be taken to meet the needs of the armed forces.

Bottlenecks Ironed Out For Railroads

Washington, July 28 (AP)—War Mobilization Director John W. Snyder said today a working agreement reached between government and railroad agencies "will go a long way to solve" the complex transportation problem.

Snyder informed Senator Mead (D-NY) chairman of the Senate War Investigating Committee, that the agreement had been achieved by the Office of Defense Transportation, the American Association of Railroads and the War Department.

Mead's committee during the past week had conducted an investigation to ascertain what was causing the bottlenecks in moving troops and equipment. Most of the difficulties were ascribed to a shortage in needed workers on the railroads.

Illness Won't Spare Goering From Trial For His War Crimes

BY GEORGE TUCKER

Mondorf - Les - Bains, Luxembourg, July 28 (AP)—Reichsmarshal Herman Goering, who collapsed from a heart attack during an electrical storm two days ago, will face trial when his time comes if he has to be brought into the court room on a stretcher, an authoritative source said today.

This policy will apply to all members of the former Nazi government, all members of the Wehrmacht and anyone else listed as a war criminal, the informant said.

Goering, who told army doctors his terror of thunder and lightning brought on the attack, was still in a highly nervous condition but was in no real danger.

Capt. Clint L. Miller, Lee's Summit, Mo., listed 10 other Nazi leaders now being treated for more or less serious ailments, but said all would be in condition to face trial when the time comes. He listed:

Hans Frank, Reichminister without portfolio and Nazi administrator of Poland—"arrived with self-inflicted wounds and in a serious condition. . . . the wounds have practically healed now."

Field Marshal Albert Kesselring—"chronic gall bladder condition. Also a severe heart lesion."

Dr. Robert Ley, leader of the

Son Of Clemenceau Blames Petain For Murder Of Mandel

BY RELMAN MORIN

Paris, July 28 (AP)—Michel Clemenceau, son of France's famous World War I leader, today indirectly accused Marshal Henri Philippe Petain of the responsibility for the murder of former Colonial Minister George Mandel, celebrated martyr of French anti-Nazi resistance.

Accusing Petain of handing Mandel and former Premier Paul Reynaud over to the Germans, Clemenceau said: "Mandel's murderers have been executed." Then, turning and looking squarely at 89 year old Petain, he added:

"But the question is, who is responsible for this crime?"

The son of Georges Clemenceau, the "tiger" of France in 1918, went on:

"France demands justice from a marshal of France for the mockery of justice shown these two men."

labor front—"being treated for post gonorrheal stricture."

Otto Meissner, minister of state—"chronic colitis."

Reichs Schatzmeister Franz Xaver Schwarz—"chronic myocarditis."

Lt. Col. Ernst John von Freyend, aid to Field Marshal Wilhelm Keitel—"recovering from multiple shrapnel wounds."

Vice Admiral Leopold Buerker—"on a constant diet and uses insulin."

Alfred Rosenberg, Reichs minister for occupied territories in the east—"has a sprained ankle."

Field Marshal Wilhelm Keitel—"severe carbuncle on neck."

SECT TO CARRY ON SNAKE RITES

Strychnine, Fire Baths, Mixed With Reptiles

By Faith Healers

St. Charles, Va., July 28 (AP)—A religious sect headed by a mountaineer preacher prepared today to go ahead tomorrow with a "national convention" demonstration of snake handling despite warning by Governor Colgate Darden that steps would be taken to halt the rites.

"If they put some of us in jail, others will carry on with the ceremonies," said the Rev. Bill Parsons, a coal miner by trade.

Faith healers from Virginia, Kentucky, Tennessee, Georgia, Ohio and Alabama have been invited to attend the ceremonies, which Parsons said would include the handling of rattle and copperhead snakes, "fire baths" and "perhaps taking doses of strychnine."

Parsons was a little under the weather—still feeling the effects of a bite from a copperhead during a demonstration last Sunday.

"I see no reason why practices so dangerous to human life should be permitted under the guise of religious freedom," Gov. Darden said.

Retorted Parsons:

"If Mr. Darden tries to interfere I will send a wire to President Truman in Berlin demanding we be permitted to enjoy the rights our sons are now and have been dying for."

The snake rituals resulted in two deaths in southern Virginia last summer. Several others occurred in previous years, in Virginia and elsewhere.

PEACE TREATY RATIFIED BY SENATE, 89-2

WORLD MACHINERY TO PREVENT WAR SET IN MOTION

Washington, July 28 (AP)—The senate thundered 89 to 2 approval today of the United Nations charter, setting in motion the machinery for a world organization armed with force to keep future peace.

In a history making roll call before jam-packed galleries, 89 senators voted loudly and clearly for American participation in a 50-nation league founded primarily on the principal of united action by the United States, Great Britain, Russia, France and China.

Policy Reversed

Only two, Senators Langer (R-N. D.) and Shipstead (R-Minn.) said "No" to a ratification action reversing the policy the senate established 25 years ago when it rejected Woodrow Wilson's League of Nations.

Senator Hiram Johnson (R-Calif.), aged and ailing member who opposed the league then and voted against this charter in committee, was absent. He is ill in Naval hospital.

Four others, Senators Bailey (D-N. C.), Glass (D-Va.), Reed (R-Kans.), and Thomas (R-Ide.) were absent when the vote was taken after six days of discussion. Johnson was barred against the ratification with Thomas and Reed, who favored it.

(On treaty vote pairs are on a 2-to-1 basis.)

No Amendments

So complete was the senate's approval of the charter that not a reservation or amendment was offered to the document drafted at the San Francisco conference of 50 nations.

When Senator McKellar (D-Tenn.), the presiding officer, announced the vote, the galleries were unexpectedly silent. Spectators packed two deep around the walls, included many men and women in uniform.

Just before the vote was taken, Langer, who had waited for the dramatic moment, arose and announced that he would not support the charter. He said he believed it was "fought with danger toward American institutions and the American people."

His colleague, Senator Young (R-N. D.) arose a moment later to declare that he would vote for the charter. He disagreed with Langer's contention that the senate ought not to act while members of the armed forces are away from home.

Shipstead made no statement today, contenting himself with a thorough-going criticism of charter provisions made earlier in the week.

Fifty-three Democrats, 35 Republicans and Senator LaFollette (Prog-Wis.) supported the charter on the final vote. The requirement of two-thirds approval for ratification thus was far exceeded.

Caution Advised

In a seven-hour finish day of speeches, the senate heard Senator Bridges (R-N. H.) assert that the plain fact is that "in the charter we have an instrument for arrest."

Landings On Japan Won't Be Difficult, General Believes

Washington, July 28 (AP)—An army engineer general, veteran of scores of landings in the Pacific, said today he believes beaches of the Japanese home island and the China coast will be less difficult for invasion than those encountered up to now.

Brig. Gen. William F. Heavey, commander of the second engineer special brigade, just returned from two and a half years and eighty-two landing operations in the Pacific war, made these points:

"The Japanese and China coast beaches do not have the hazardous coral formations that fringe the beaches of most of the southwest Pacific islands."

Landing forces going ashore on Japan will have behind them long experience and better equipment.

The weather forecasting in the Pacific is so good that invasions can be timed to fit in between typhoons, making possible landings during that storm season.

Heavy said General Douglas MacArthur fooled the Japanese by landing on Leyte at a time when the enemy thought he wouldn't in the typhoon season.

Chinese Take Prize Airbase City, Kweilin

BY SPENCER MOOSA

Chungking, July 28 (AP)—Chinese troops recaptured the prize airbase city of Kweilin yesterday and seized its three former American airfields from the Japanese, the Chinese high command said tonight. The victory ended a savage six-week battle.

Kweilin, walled capital of Kwangsi province, once was the biggest U. S. airbase in south-central China. It had been occupied by the Japanese since last November. Its recapture was the most significant victory in the recent comeback of the Chinese armies.

Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's veterans smashed into the rubble streets of Kweilin, 360 miles southeast of Chungking, at 4 p. m., yesterday.

Corridor Menaced

The last Japanese defenders of the city, headquarters said, withdrew to the northwest to escape annihilation.

Kweilin, abandoned by the U. S. 14th Air Force eight months ago, was the third former American airbase recovered in three days by the Chinese, whose current drive rapidly is strengthening American air power on the Asiatic mainland. It also was the Ninth airbase recaptured in recent months.

Meanwhile, the Chinese also were threatening the vital transcontinental Japanese corridor that links Korea with Canton and Hong Kong.

The high command reported that spearheads were pressing toward the strategic communications center of Hukong, 120 miles north of Canton, on the Canton-Hankow railroad.

Striking from the liberated airbase city of Nanyang in Kwangtung province, the Chinese Thursday captured Chihing, 29 miles east of Kulong, after a 30-mile advance in two days. The command said that the Japanese dislodged from Chihing, on one of the main highways leading into the Canton-Hankow corridor, were fleeing toward imperiled Kulong.

TAX CHISELERS GO INTO COURT

Scores Of Major Cases Prepared For Early Grand Jury Action

Washington, July 28 (AP)—The treasury said today "scores of major cases" against alleged tax chiselers are being prepared for early presentation to federal grand juries.

It made that statement in a report on the treasury's enforcement activities during the fiscal year which ended June 30.

Meanwhile a treasury spokesman said the often-mentioned tax case against the owner of a New York restaurant chain continues to be delayed by the discovery of additional evidence.

The treasury has given out details of this investigation from time to time, but never has named the restaurant owner.

The fiscal-year summary just released said that during the year the bureau recommended for assessment the record amount of $885,000,000 in additional taxes and penalties of which $700,000,000 represented delinquencies in income and excess-profits taxes.

The total recommended added taxes and penalties in the preceding fiscal year was $730,000,000. The amount for the 12 months, just ended was swelled by the drive on tax evaders, Internal Revenue Commissioner Joseph D. Nunan, Jr., declared.

Gibbs City Lumber Dry Kilns Burned; 200,000 Feet Lost

Iron River, Mich., July 28 (AP)—Fire today destroyed approximately 200,000 feet of lumber and two dry kilns of the Gibbs City Lumber Co., 12 miles northwest of here.

The estimated loss was $50,000 to $60,000, according to William Gehl, mill and yard superintendent. Much of the lumber, consisting of choice birch and maple, was consigned to the army.

FIRE SWEEPS UPPER FLOORS OF BIG TOWER

PLANE LOST IN FOG HITS 79TH STORY; 3 ABOARD KILLED

New York, July 28 (AP)—A fog-blinded army bomber crashed into the Empire State building at the 79th story today and exploded inside with an earth-shaking roar, killing three fliers and at least ten office workers and turning the world's tallest building into a smoking, flaming torch in the sky.

The bizarre disaster injured 24 persons, six seriously, and while rescue workers searched the twisted, blackened wreckage of 78th and 79th floor offices tonight, police said the death toll may exceed 15. Army and fire department investigations were under way.

Blazing Gasoline Spreads

The eight-ton, twin-engined B-25 "Billy Mitchell" plane, groping through a thick fog toward the Newark airport, rammed the 102-story skyscraper at 9:49 a. m., sending blazing gasoline cascading through offices and down elevator shafts, fanning the area like an earthquake, and showering broken glass into crowded business streets for five blocks around. Police said no pedestrians were injured.

Panic spread among some of the 1,500 persons in the building, but police said virtually all were evacuated in orderly fashion within 20 minutes. The area was blocked off from a quickly gathering crowd of many thousands.

The bomber, with three servicemen aboard, took off from Bedford, Mass., this morning, bound for Newark, N. J. Shortly before the crash it communicated with LaGuardia Field, New York, by radio and was told:

"Maintain contact flying regulations with three mile forward visibility. If this is not possible, return to La Guardia. At present I cannot see the top of the Empire State building."

Workers Hear Roar

The plane then was over Manhattan. It flew southward, roughly following the route of Fifth avenue. The fog was so dense that some New Yorkers in the area heard it but could not see it.

Then, with many Empire State building workers alarmed by the crescendo of its roar, it hurled its eight-ton weight against the tower-spiked structure, slashed a gaping hole in the wall, plunged in, and disintegrated in a series of three blasts.

Instantly, flames enveloped the office suites in its path.

Parts of the plane were caught in the wall. Others were scattered through the two floors. Still others—including one motor, part of the fuselage, a landing gear and a stray wheel—hurtled entirely across 33rd street to the roof of

Newberry Girl Sent To France In 1934 Now Mother Of 3

Detroit, July 28 (AP)—Jacqueline Walker, who caused a furore 11 years ago when the French council here took her to France from Newberry against her will, has written to her stepfather, Lynn Cole of Newberry.

It is the first letter received by Cole from the girl since she left. Jacqueline wrote she is now living in Colombes, Seine, is married and has three children. She spoke of her desire to return to Michigan someday.

Born in Sandusky, O., of a French mother and Michigan man who married overseas during the first world war, Jacqueline wished to remain in the United States after her parents had died. Her mother, sometime before her death, wrote a letter asking that Jacqueline "go to my parents in France if anything happens to me."

The French council, Leon Morand, started deportation action, despite her protests and those of members of the American Legion and the Detroit police force, Jacqueline was taken to France.

POTSDAM TRIO RESUMES TASK

Attlee Returns To Help Draft Historic Plan For Europe's Future

Potsdam, July 28 (AP)—Britain's new prime minister, Clement Attlee, returned to Potsdam tonight to help President Truman and Premier Stalin draft the final chapters of the historic document upon which the future fate of Europe hinges.

With the colorful Winston Churchill missing for the first time, the conference picked up where it left off Wednesday when he flew to London to learn of the nation's crushing rejection of his government.

The new Big Three began immediate work on the last phases of the parley amid the general impression that it might be concluded early next week.

Attlee's presence in Potsdam throughout the early part of the meeting enabled him to replace Churchill without a break in the continuity of the discussions. These have covered everything from President Truman's primary objective—victory over Japan—to the future government of Germany.

Since Thursday's ultimatum by the U. S., Britain and China that Japan surrender immediately or be wiped out, there has been no further comment here on how long the Japanese would be given to comply with the stringent Allied terms for surrender.

Furniture Industry Improvement Seen

Grand Rapids, Mich., July 28 (AP)—Early improvement in the furniture industry was foreseen in the monthly review issued today by Seidman and Seidman, trade accountants.

Relaxed government controls, as well as more plentiful labor for use in the industry have generally brightened the outlook for the improvement, the report said.

All restrictions are off as to the use of lumber, but limited supplies of upholstery leather and fabrics curtail production of some lines. The most serious handicap, according to the review, is the scarcity of material.

State Troops Open Camp At Grayling; Will Stay 8 Days

Grand Rapids, Mich., July 28 (AP)—Approximately 500 Michigan state troops from western Michigan left today for Camp Grayling for the longest training period since the guards entered federal service in 1940. Eight days will be spent in rifle, bayonet, revolver, machinegun, first aid, chemical warfare and truck driving maneuvers.

Kalamazoo, Benton Harbor, South Haven, Grand Haven, Muskegon and Ionia contingents were being moved to the camp in army trucks.

Non-Stinker Skunk, P.U., Is Air Mascot

Pratt, Kas., July 28 (AP)—Mascot for one B-29 bomber crew at Pratt Army Air Base is P. U. Flyaway—a de-fused skunk.

Popularly known among the "P. U."—others are inclined to view him a little doubtfully—Flyaway has 43 hours flying time and the crew confidently expects to take the little non-stinker into combat over Japan.

HEAVY SHIPS SUNK OR PUT OUT OF FIGHT

THIRD FLEET MOPS UP SATURDAY IN INLAND SEA

Guam, Sunday, July 29 (AP)—American B-29s struck six of 11 Japanese forwarned cities early today and General MacArthur reported Okinawa-based planes had raided the inland sea where American and British carrier aircraft all but finished off the Japanese navy Saturday.

It also was disclosed that the new American super-warplane, the B-32 bomber, had entered the war against Japan from the Philippines.

Pamphlets Name Targets

The 550 to 600 Superforts from Marianas bases rained 3,500 tons of fire bombs on the six cities and a seventh task force attacked an oil refinery as a special target. Not one plane was lost.

Returning airmen said "large fires" were breaking out over the remainder of their objectives—all in cities whose inhabitants had been bluntly warned by the B-29 command to flee for their lives.

They struck a little more than 24 hours after Maj. Gen. Curtis LeMay sent word to the enemy from his 20th Air Force headquarters here by bomber-scattered pamphlets which named the targets.

Raided were Tsu, Amori, Ichinomiya, Ujijama and Ogachi on Honshu Island and Uwa-jima on Shikoku. The oil refinery was near Shimotsu, 45 miles south of Osaka, on Honshu.

The carrier pilots returning from the Saturday raid, their third of the week on the Inland Sea, listed the 29,990-ton battleship Hyuga among the major craft sunk in the attacks.

The Japanese fleet was declared reduced to light units which American destroyers could handle.

MacArthur's Sunday communiqué announced that heavy and medium bombers of the Far East air force made three telling strikes in Tsushima Strait and the Inland Sea Thursday, two days ahead of the carrier planes' latest blow. They sank nine small Japanese ships, totaling 16,000 tons.

The B-29s, which made history in giving the Japanese a chance to prepare for them, included a force that used Iwo Jima as a another building.

The crash snapped the cables of three elevator cars parked at the 80th floor. All three plunged to the basement. Police still were trying to get at their wreckage late tonight to determine whether the falling vehicles carried others to their deaths.

Another elevator car was parked at the 75th floor. Its cable snapped, too, and James W. Irwin, management consultant with offices on the floor, said he had seen two women enter the car immediately before it dropped.

Charred Bodies Found

It was sudden death for most of the victims.

Firemen entering the National Catholic Welfare Conference suite—on the 79th floor—found nine charred bodies, most of them believed to be those of girls, grouped around a single table.

Another body was found further back on the same floor.

Still another was found on the parapet of the 72nd floor. It was that of Paul Dearing, publicity man for the Catholic organization and a former Buffalo, N. Y., reporter. Police said the crash apparently hurled him from his office and out of the building to the wing roof six stories below.

Fifty persons were on the sightseers' tower of the skyscraper, standing where queens and princes, presidents and paupers have stood entranced by the horizon spreading out from that highest man-made vantage point. All were evacuated safely.

The fire that resulted was a "fire above the clouds." It was the highest fire ever fought in the city—913 feet aloft—but although witnesses said the heat was "like an oven," Fire Commissioner Patrick Walsh said it was a "fairly easy job." At no time did firemen fear a holocaust, although four alarms were sounded.

Excitement Spreads

It was the first fatal airplane accident since 1929 among New York's skyscrapers. On November 20, 1929, Charles L. Reid, a wealthy concert manager and amateur pilot, perished when his biplane crashed on the roof of a fourth-floor extension of the YMCA building.

The crash brought demands in Washington for new laws regulating flying over cities.

Scores of ambulances, physicians and fire trucks swarmed to the building within minutes after the disaster and excitement spread through Manhattan.

While thousands assembled in streets, there were episodes of heroism inside the burning skyscraper. One hero, 17-year-old Coast Guard Trainee Don Molony of Detroit, a hospital apprentice, was standing at 34th street when the plane struck. He grabbed first aid supplies at a drug store, hurried into the building to treat two injured persons in the basement—then ran up 79 flights of steps to administer to at least 10 others. The Coast Guard said he had been recommended for a decoration.

Within a few hours army officials identified two of the dead fliers. They were Lt. Col. William F. Smith, 27, Watertown, Mass., the pilot, and S/Sgt. Christopher S. Domitrovich, 31, of Granite City, Ill. The name of the third occupant, said to be a Navy enlisted man, was not announced immediately.

Southern Girls' Marrying Chances Are Rated Highest

New York—Girls living in small southern towns in the United States are most likely to marry before they are 20; those living in large northeastern cities are least likely to marry young.

One-ninth, or 11.1 per cent, of the native white girls between the ages of 15 and 19 were married at the time of the 1940 census, the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company points out in its statistical bulletin. In the South, 18 per cent of the young girls of the region were married before they were 20, and 20.6 per cent of the girls in communities of less than 2,500 inhabitants.

In the larger cities only 6.3 per cent of the girls from the ages of 15 to 19 were married, while in smaller towns and villages throughout the country 15.1 per cent had been married. The farthest west a young girl goes along the northern tier of the country, he better appear to be her chances or early marriage.

Long Illness Fatal To Mrs. Anna Hanson

Munising—Mrs. Anna M. Hanson, wife of Albert Hanson, passed away at the family home, 802 West Superior street, early Saturday morning after an illness of about six years which became serious a few days ago.

Mrs. Hanson was born at National Mine, March 3, 1883. She had been a resident of Munising forty years. She is survived by her husband, Albert Hanson, one son by a previous marriage, Leonard Ohlen, of this city, and three daughters, Dorothy Hanson and Mrs. Joseph Pelson, of this city, and Mrs. Stanford Knudson, of Sturgeon Bay, Wis., and three sons, Pfc. Clarence Hanson, Melvin Hanson, RMFC, and Roy Hanson, RT 2/c, all three in the Pacific theater of war. There are five grandchildren and several nieces and nephews.

The body will lie in state at the Beaulieu funeral home until Tuesday afternoon when the last rites will be held at the funeral home, conducted by Rev. K. O. Saverid, of the Methodist Episcopal church. The service will be held at 2 p. m. and interment will be at Maple Grove cemetery.

COUNTRY HOME SAVED

The country home of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Jacobson, near the Onota station of the South Shore railroad, about 22 miles west of Munising, was seriously threatened by fire between eleven and twelve o'clock Saturday morning. Sparks from a chimney set the shingle roof ablaze.

The prompt response of members of the Munising fire department and neighbors in Onota and Deerton made it possible to organize an efficient bucket brigade which extinguished the fire before damage was done beyond the roof.

MUNISING BRIEFS

John Tvorik, of the U. S. Army, who has been spending a furlough with home folks after service in England, will leave about the middle of the week for Washington, D. C., for reassignment.

Sgt. Claude Ouellette has left for Utah after a furlough with home folks.

Edward Bowerman and son, Bobby, left Saturday afternoon after a week's visit with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Bowerman, and other relatives and friends. Bobby will stop in Detroit for a visit with other relatives and Edward will go on to Hollywood, Fla., their home city.

Tech. Sgt. Wayne Pangborn will leave the first of the week for his base in Newfoundland, after a visit with his family and other relatives here.

Joseph Scott and family will spend the weekend in their former home, Iron Mountain.

Mr. and Mrs. Emil Ahlin and son Glen and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Gasman and daughter Ethel of Escanaba are expected to arrive this morning to visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ludwig Anderson.

Miss Gunhild Anderson of Crystal Falls is the weekend guest of Mrs. Benjamin Baron.

W. O. Hildebrand of Lansing, secretary-manager of the Michigan Association of Insurance Agents, was the guest of his brother, Willard Hildebrand, on Friday.

Clyde McLahlan and family of Indianapolis, Ind., and Mrs. Arabelle Wooden of Bloomington, Ind., are here for a visit and camp out with the family of Willard Hildebrand. Mrs. Wooden is the mother of Mrs. McLahlan and a sister of Mrs. Hildebrand.

Did "Beautiful Job"

LeMay declared the other cities on the doomed list of eleven would be attacked in quick order.

Other warships were seen battered and blazing around the Kure naval base where, one air group commander declared, "We did a beautiful job."

The Japanese navy, once the world's third largest, was reduced to scattered light units.

All of Japan's heavy ships have been sunk or put out of action, the reports of the fliers and Admiral Nimitz' Saturday communique disclosed.

BY HAMILTON W. FARON

Guam, Sunday, July 29 (AP)—American Third Fleet planes set fire to the Japanese battleships Haruna and Ise and three cruisers in their strikes yesterday at the Kure naval base and sighted a third enemy battleship resting on the bottom with her decks awash from Tuesday's attack.

The Saturday strikes, which put finishing touches on the wreckage of the Japanese navy, also heavily damaged an escort aircraft carrier, sank three submarines and damaged 12 other ships besides destroying 44 enemy planes and damaging 56.

Emphasizing that this was merely a preliminary report, with more details likely in the next few days, Adm. Nimitz in a communique said that reports were not yet available on the results achieved by British fleet fliers who participated with the Americans in the 1,500-plane onslaught against the Inland Sea area in the very heart of the enemy empire.

Enemy Kept Guessing

Besides the burning Haruna and Ise, old but powerful ships of 29,330 and 29,990 tons, the Americans set fire to the already damaged heavy cruiser Ayoba, the light cruisers Tone and Oyodo, and inflicted new damage to the escort carrier Kaiyo.

Other ships damaged Saturday included four destroyers, two destroyer escorts, two medium freighter-transports, three small

LEADERS SPURN SURRENDER BID

Tokyo Will Not Accept Ultimatum Of Allies, Party Chief Says

San Francisco, July 28 (AP)—The president of Japan's powerful totalitarian political party declared today his country would never accept the Allied surrender ultimatum as Nippon awaited an address by Premier Suzuki on the war and the coming "battle of the streets."

While the Japanese government officially remained silent on the edict from Potsdam, and Tokyo's newspapers reached a common refrain of rejection, Gen. Jiro Minami, president of the Political Association of Great Japan, gave the first reaction to the ultimatum by an acknowledged public figure.

Radio Tokyo quoted Minami as saying Japan would never quit and the "entire Japanese nation will remain absolutely unaffected in their resolute determination to save their country from national extermination."

The broadcast, recorded by the federal communications commission, quoted Minami as describing the ultimatum terms as "contrary to what the Japanese people think are righteous peace conditions" and saying that the Japanese had no alternative but to fight.

The Japanese Domei agency yesterday said it had "learned authoritatively" the government would spurn the quit-or-be-destroyed proclamation.

ROSEMARY HAS DAUGHTER

Hollywood, July 28 (AP)—Movie Actress Rosemary Lane today became the mother of a 7½ pound daughter. It is the first child for Miss Lane and her husband, Buddy Westmore, film makeup director.

freighters and one unidentified ship.

Only one Japanese plane was shot down near the Allied fleet, and 18 which tried to brave the American air scourge were shot down over the target area. Seventy-five were destroyed on the ground, plus 56 damaged.

Nimitz made no mention of operations today, leaving the enemy in the dark as to when and where the roaring seaborne airpower might strike next.

ing acts of war by countries which lack the power of making war."

Bridges voted for the charter, but he declared that the United States must proceed under it with "utmost caution."

He complained that a provision which permits the United States, Great Britain, Russia, France or China to veto action by the proposed World Security Council makes it unlikely it will exert force in a major international dispute.

One after another, senators got to their feet to say they would support ratification. Many of them raised questions.

Senator Norse (R-Ore.) wanted to know if Korea, for instance, is "to be handed over to China or Russia" in the peace settlements.

Sensors Taft (R-Ohio) and Revercomb (R-W. Va.) wanted some power reserved to congress on the use of American forces by the world league.

Earlier in the day a message from President Truman had been placed in the record promising that the agreement on allocation of United States troops to the organization would be sent to congress for consideration of both houses.

Meat Dealer Says Ringing Doorbell Makes Him Violate

Bay City, Mich., July 28 (AP)—Federal Judge Frank C. Picard ordered Edward Markowski of Alpena today to quit his slaughtering despite the defendant's insistent plea that he felt he had to meet the public's demands.

"My doorbell rings 15 hours a day," Markowski said. "The public bothers me all the time. People want meat."

The OPA charged that Markowski was slaughtering without a permit and asked the court for a restraining order against him.

In support of its request the OPA said it had refused a permit to Markowski because he had been found guilty heretofore of violating ceiling prices and had been assessed $12,407 treble damages which he had not yet paid.

Judge Picard, in ruling against Markowski, said:

"Doorbells or no doorbells, if you violate this order you go to jail. You think of your son on Okinawa and refuse to listen to chisellers ringing your doorbell."

Japs Decline to Quit

THE Allies have offered Japan one last chance to quit the war before their country is reduced to shambles, but the Nipponese war lords have rejected the ultimatum to surrender. The result will be an acceleration of the pace of the war in the Pacific.

The situation that exists in Tokyo today is in many ways comparable to the situation in Germany in the closing months of the war on the European continent. The ruling clique is saturated with war criminals who know that when the collapse comes, their own doom is imminent. Consequently they propose to carry on the war as long as possible, even if that policy means the destruction of their country.

That leaves the Allies with no choice except to go forward with the systematic ruin of the Japanese home islands. This is, of course, a much easier task than it was in Germany because the Japanese population is heavily concentrated and we are now in a position to pour the full weight of our mighty arsenal against the Japs.

The psychological tactics that we are employing in the Pacific are designed to prove to the Japanese people how utterly helpless they are to halt the inevitable destruction of their homes. The advance designation of the next 11 cities to be wiped out is a part of this psychological warfare. We tell them what we are going to do and then we do it. Nothing could be more effective to prove to the Japanese citizenry that we mean business, and that we have the means to enforce our decisions.

The Tokyo radio is making much of the fact that Soviet Russia has not as yet come into the war on the side of the Allies. The bitter truth is that Japan is decisively whipped, whether Russia comes into the war or not, and even the war lords know that.

Cupola to "Vista Dome"

THE familiar cupola atop the freight train caboose, which had its origin on the Chicago and North Western railway, is being abandoned by that railroad in favor of a sideview arrangement.

Oddly enough, the discarded idea is being readopted by the Burlington road for its postwar streamlined trains, which will have coaches with a "Vista Dome" just a fancy name for a cupola. The "Vista Dome" coaches will be used on the Burlington's transcontinental run so that its passengers will be able to view the Rockies and other scenic attractions while traveling to their destinations.

The observation turret will be made of thermo-glass, which will filter out the heat rays. The glass also will be insulated against the sun's glare. Passengers will be able to sit in comfortable reclining chairs and view the scenery all around.

These are only a few of the riding comforts the railroads are planning to offer the traveling public after the war. Realizing that the airplane, bus and private automobile will again be formidable competitors, the railroads are determined to keep their share of the business.

Bad News for Franco

THE landslide victory of the Labor party in the British election was anything but good news for Generalissimo Franco and the dictator's adherents in Spain.

After the victory, Prof. Harold Laski, chairman of the Labor party executive committee, declared "at long last we are going to be in a position to do full justice to our Spanish comrades."

Laski was referring to the Republican government, which was elected by the majority of people in Spain but was later crushed in a civil war launched by Franco, with military aid from Fascist Italy and Nazi Germany.

It would not cause much surprise if Britain, under the Labor government, would break off diplomatic relations with Spain until the Spanish people have been given an opportunity to hold free elections to choose the leaders they want. As long as Franco remains in control, Spain will be a Fascist state, and like a rotten apple might injure the cause of freedom and democracy in the other countries of Europe.

Doctor Will Oppose King

CANADIAN and English election procedure is so different from that of the United States that many Americans are confused over the recent outcome in both countries. However, the foreign election system works well and it is in some ways more elastic and responsive to the will of the people than is ours.

Churchill defeated his opponent for a seat in Parliament two weeks ago, but the service men had to be counted in the field, so the total results were not known until Wednesday this week. But Churchill's Conservative party was defeated, automatically ousting him from the Premiership. Anthony Eden won his local election, but as a Conservative, the party of His Majesty's loyal opposition, he must give place to another cabinet minister, and take his

World Events Analyzed

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

If you looked the wide world over, it would be hard to find two men more opposite in every respect than Prime Minister Churchill and the leader of the Labor party, Clement Attlee, who will presumably be Churchill's successor.

Clem, as his circle of intimates in the party call him, is reserved, inarticulate, literal, somewhat suspicious, cautious, essentially a party man. He is entirely lacking in the color which has made Winston Churchill a world figure.

Without straining it too far, you can see a certain parallel in the Roosevelt-to-Truman and the Churchill-to-Attlee successions. If President Truman is in many ways a typical American, Attlee is in certain ways a typical Britisher of the average middle class.

—MAKES GOOD IMPRESSION—

He is a thorough family man with a house in the suburbs. Almost his only luxury is to rusticate there on the weekends, a privilege more often than not denied to him during the past crowded decade.

Clem Attlee makes a poor impression on strangers. When he first visited this country, in 1941 for a meeting of the International Labor office, someone in the British embassy arranged for me to talk with him. It was to be a background talk for help in a profile of the man that I was putting together.

He sat in the overstuffed living room of a hotel suite in New York looking ill at ease. On the table beside him was a great basket of fruit under cellophane. Somehow, he managed to look as though he were under cellophane too.

I put a few tentative questions. He answered in monosyllables.

"Are you sure this isn't an interview?" he asked suddenly. "I'm afraid it is an interview."

Abruptly he left the room.

—LABOR PARTY DIVIDED—

The analogy with Truman extends to the respective parties that the two men lead. If the Democratic party is split, roughly to the left and right, so is the labor party. And the split is almost as bitter, in some respects, as that between the southern and the labor wings of the Democratic party in this country.

Attlee, Herbert Morrison, Ernest Bevin and Hugh Dalton represent a labor bureaucracy accustomed to responsibility both within the trade union movement and in government. Most of the top party men who have majority control were members of the Churchill coalition government that has prosecuted the war.

Pressing these leaders from the left are such men as Aneurin Bevan, the stormy Welshman who began life as a pit boy in the mines; Harold Laski, the professor of economics whose fireworks brilliance frightens run-of-the-mill laborites; and George Russell Strauss, member of parliament, whose wealth has helped to keep the left wing opposition going.

How much of this sweeping victory can the left wing of British labor claim? The answer to that will determine how much representation these fierce oppositionists have in the new labor cabinet. If they contributed mightily to the victory, as they seemingly have, then Attlee cannot ignore them.

—WANT SOCIALIZATION—

They are for pushing socialization hard—for carrying out immediately the party's pledge to socialize natural resources and basic industries with a large element of public interest. Within the right wing, years of responsibility and office holding enforce greater caution.

One of the reasons for the conservative defeat, it seems to me, was the reckless tone of the conservative campaign. Churchill, in his first election speech, charged that the Laborites would bring in a socialist dictatorship with a Gestapo which would suppress all free opinion. It reminded Americans of the old charges brought against Roosevelt in his campaigns—that he wanted to "Communistize" America—charges so wild that they backfired.

The tone of the campaign is said to have been set by Churchill's friend, Lord Beaverbrook. If that is true, it was not the service of friendship. The outcome was a rebuke to those who, like Churchill and Beaverbrook, advocated taking off all controls and a return to normalcy.

Houses and Castles

THERE was a day when an Englishman's house was his castle, but the war has changed all that.

Service men without homes have been forcibly seized and occupying the temporarily vacated residences of well to do people who are summering elsewhere. The trouble began at the town of Bath, and has spread all over England, Scotland and Wales.

At first attempts were made by local police to evict the new tenants, but the move was a half-hearted one, inasmuch as the officers knew the dire need of the occupants for shelter. This week the government granted permission to local authorities to take possession of unoccupied homes unless the owners or tenants return within a fortnight.

There is a tremendous shortage of housing in Britain, with about 25 per cent of all buildings bombed out during the war, and no new construction throughout the war period. There have been numerous cases where tenants went out for the evening, and returned to find a service man and his family in possession. Nobles and rich merchants and manufacturers are being compelled to share their spacious quarters with Tom, Dick and Harry, who are determined that they and their families will sleep in the street no longer.

All of which goes to show that Sherman was right.

MORE ROTTEN POLITICS

(Detroit Free Press)

Looks like more "McKayism" at the State Prison for Southern Michigan at Jackson.

The largest penal institution in the United States is now revealed by the investigation of Attorney Gen. John R. Dethmers as a Beldam of corruption, perversion, graft and lawlessness approaching total anarchy.

Professional murderers and criminals of every other type were apparently allowed to do as they pleased in connivance with prison authorities.

And their trail leads directly to the doorsteps of the courthouse at Battle Creek, where some are testifying and some are being tried on the charge of conspiracy to murder Senator Hooper.

Hooper was butchered a few days before he was to testify against Republican Political Boss Frank D. McKay, on charges of bribery in connection with the race track gamblers.

The Prison Warden, Harry H. Jackson, the man who permitted this great prison to be turned into a criminal's Saturnalia, was an appointee of McKay, who used the late Gov. Frank Fitzgerald as his stooge.

When Fitzgerald was defeated by Frank Murphy, Jackson was dropped, and when Fitzgerald returned to office Jackson was returned—and has remained ever since, despite the valiant fight of the CIO, as early as 1941, to call attention to the rottenness he permitted.

COME NOW, SOBER UP

(Milwaukee Journal)

The Railway Age, about as tory as anything published in America, says that reports of crowded traveling conditions on troop trains have been used "by the planners of national socialism" to smear the railroads.

From whom have these reports come? From the boys themselves, who have objected to being transferred from the Atlantic coast to the Pacific in dirty day coaches. These veterans are fresh from fighting national socialism in Europe. Does Railway Age think they are trying to promote it in this country?

The office of defense transportation, which is the government agency charged with the responsibility of managing wartime traffic, has not made a very good record. But its error has not been in the direction of socialism. The mistake has been in not clamping down hard enough on individual private travel and such "free private enterprise" as race track promotion. The ledger stands just opposite from what Railway Age says.

It must be very agonizing mentally to get in such a state as the editors of Railway Age show. Our sympathy.

The "separation center" may be well named, but the average G. I. is willing to let it go as a divorce.

His Cup Runneth Over

SAY WHEN!

Good Morning!

By The Bugler

BOAT TRIP—The late afternoon sun was warm and bright at the yacht basin as Atty. Denis McGinn went about all those preparatory motions before taking his "crew" aboard for a trip to Minneapolis Shoal. The cabin cruiser's Kermath engine was warming up, and ice was taken aboard to cool off the ice box in the tidy little galley.

The cruiser is 32 feet long, can sleep six, and is a Coast Guard Auxiliary craft. Atty. McGinn is vice commander of the Escanaba flotilla, C. G. Temporary Reserve.

His "crew", however, did not measure up to such a high nautical standard, although they gained experience before the trip was completed. Objective was Minneapolis Shoal lighthouse, and a try at late evening perch fishing, which Tony Jessen, lightkeeper, had been giving a high rating of excellence when ashore.

NEW VIEWPOINT

The number of people who have seen Escanaba from the bay side is relatively small. In clearing the yacht basin harbor you are impressed first by the surprisingly large size of Sand Island, south of the harbor entrance. It can be reached only by boat and is, therefore, familiar to comparatively few people. Flocks of terns nest there, and shore birds tip and glide along its beach.

A few minutes out and Escanaba becomes a flatly-wooded shore difficult to locate except for certain distinctive landmarks. There is the old water station, the light-house marking the harbor entrance, the radio tower on Sand Point, the Senior high school building on its eminence—and a new one—the 145-foot city water tank under construction on the western side of the city. Farther up the bay shore the ends of the ore docks poked out like stubby fingers.

NOT THE VIEW

The "crew", however, was less interested in the view than in food. The cooks were, by some prearrangement, Matt Peterson and Lloyd Peltier. Waited were the becoming acquainted with the galley the others took turns at the wheel and tested their vision in efforts to keep their eye on Minneapolis Shoal light.

Joe Ivens was relieved at the wheel by George Lindenthal and then began sniffing toward the galley.

"I like onions," he advised the cooks. "Lots of onions."

Freddie Earle and Charles Henderson exchanged binoculars for the chart of Green Bay and made of a game of trying to identify the islands and headlands showing here and there on the horizon. Stonington Point was familiar. Round Island in Big Bay de Noc and the Garden peninsula shore were easily identified. They were less sure of the string of islands extending southerly from Garden peninsula—Little Summer, Big Summer, St. Martins, Poverty, Rocky and Washington Island.

THE OBJECTIVE—A buoy marked the outer extent of Eleven Foot and Corona Shoals off Peninsula Point, dangerous and rocky reefs where a light ship was anchored before Minneapolis Shoal light house was built.

The Minneapolis—Shoal light-house, completed about 1937, is one of the most recent and modern on the Great Lakes. It is the prindipal beacon for all shipping in Northern Green bay.

Now in the declining sun it looked like a white pencil set in a broad square base in the choppy water. Beneath that base, down some 12 to 15 feet, is a rocky shoal. Once it was a threat to shipping, for it rose sheer from a nearby depth of more than 100 fathoms and ships approached it without the sound of warning surf.

FEW PERCH

In the lee of the light's broad base there was an attempt at fishing, although the perch were reluctant. Only one was taken, and that thrown back because of its minnowy proportions.

"Funny, they were biting swell this afternoon," said Tony.

SHIP-SHAPE PLACE—The lighthouse itself was a fascinating place, the Escanaba "crew" found on inspection. It was as clean and bright as if painted yesterday, and its amazingly large interior (lower storage rooms extend down to the water line) was as orderly as a ship.

The "heart" of the lighthouse is its control room. Here are the levers, the switches and the apparatus that control the radio telephone, the 500 watt light behind its big prism in the 86-foot-high tower, and the fog horn blown by compressed air.

The lighthouse has its winter use in guiding ice fishermen. For during the winter months when the crew is gone, a small bulb no larger than the one in a big flashlight, glows through the night. It is an arrangement of three bulbs and if one burns out, another automatically switches on.

G. I. Service

Q. My husband under the redeployment set-up will be in the States about 4 months before he will ship out to the Pacific. Won't he have to file his income tax return at the end of 3 1/2 months?

A. A recent ruling provided for the postponement of such filings until the service man has been back in this country for a continuous period of five and one-half months, not counting the month of return.

Q. Are there many instances in which a veteran has the same name as some other veteran?

A. Yes. The Veterans Administration index contains the names of more than 20,000,000 veterans and many of these are of persons whose full name is identical with, or almost the same as, those of other veterans. This index of veterans includes the names of more than 200,000 Smiths, more than 12,000 John Smiths, more than 136,000 Johnsons, and more than 100,000 Browns.

Q. May the wife of an enlisted man apply for a family allowance if her husband has made no arrangements for it?

A. Yes. She may complete the application and it can be approved with or without the husband's consent.

Of General Interest

Q. An American veteran just discharged under the point system said that the "jeep" was the greatest vehicle casualty in the European campaign. Do you have any data on this subject?

A. Of the 92,000 vehicles lost by the United States Army during the European campaign, jeeps led the list with 25,781. Next biggest loss was in 2 1/2-ton trucks, 19,664. Other losses were 4,462 M-4 medium tanks, 1,458 light tanks and 3,165 half-track cars.

Q. When did the United States purchase Alaska from Russia and what was paid?

A. It was purchased in 1867 for $7,200,000; less than two cents an acre.

Of Interest to Women

Q. During the current meat shortage, we must buy so much fish, but I don't know how to select fresh fish. What are some good pointers on this?

A. Marks of fresh, whole fish are: Flesh, firm and rigid; eyes bright, not sunken; gills, free from discoloration or suspicious odor; scales, clinging to the skin.

Q. In a Contract Bridge hand, how many honor tricks are necessary to make a take-out bid of One No Trump?

A. When no intervening bid has been made, the hand should contain from one to one plus honor tricks if the strength is in two suits, or from one and a half to two plus honor tricks if the strength is in one suit only. With less strength the bid should not be made.

PRIME MINISTER ATTLEE

Britain's new Prime Minister, Clement Attlee, is a quiet, unassuming fellow who gets what he wants, makes little fuss about it.

During the recent San Francisco conference, Attlee walked around unguarded, washed dishes at the home of an old friend, stood in the back of a theater so as not to interrupt a performance for which he arrived late.

One of the "inside secrets" of newsmen! At San Francisco was that if they knew the ropes, they could lunch at Vanessi's, one of the best dining places in the Shadow of Nob Hill. The restaurant doesn't open until evening, but those "in the know" slip in the side door, and are treated to a luxurious meal. One day, two British information service men persuaded California's Attorney General Bob Kenney to take them in the back door for lunch. Highly elated at their success, they glanced around at the other favored guests. In one corner was the Deputy Prime Minister of England, Major Attlee, gnawing happily at a chop.

Apparently he knows his way around, even in San Francisco.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Washington—Real facts in the resignation of Henry Morgenthau as longest consecutive secretary of the treasury in history are as follows:

Morgenthau had a tip that Judge Fred Vinson might be appointed as his successor a few months later, certainly before the end of the year. So he went over to the White House to get the thing straightened out. Morgenthau told Truman that he would be glad to "stick around" until V-J Day, but that it was very difficult for him to work effectively with rumors constantly circulating that he was going to be replaced.

"That's all right," replied the President. "I'll deny them."

"I'll believe you," returned Morgenthau, "but unfortunately the public won't."

He had in mind the frequent Truman denials that Stettinius' resignation would not be accepted.

"In order to quiet these rumors," Morgenthau persisted, "I'd like to have something from you in writing."

"Well, I'll have to think that over," sparred Truman.

"There's nothing to think over," countered the treasury chief. "After all I've been around here long enough for people to know me. So if you have to think it over, I'd better write out my resignation right now."

Truman demurred at this, but Morgenthau insisted.

"After all," he said, "it's only right that you should have your own man."

So the letter of resignation was handed in immediately; and later in the day, Truman called a special press conference to announce it. In the interim Judge Sam Rosenman was asked to draft an appropriate letter to Morgenthau for Truman's signature, thanking him for his long services. But Rosenman wasn't familiar with all of Morgenthau's record, had to send over to the treasury for certain facts, and in the end, the letter almost wasn't ready for the Truman press conference.

All this happened on July 5. At that time it was announced Morgenthau would stay on until after Truman got back from Potsdam. How this didn't happen is the most important part of the story.

BYRNES UNDERMINED MORGENTHAU

After President Truman got on the Cruiser Augusta, he changed his mind about having Morgenthau remain until he got home. And it was Jimmy Byrnes who helped him change it. Byrnes has long disliked Morgenthau. The two are scarcely on speaking terms.

With both the Secretary of state and the President on the same ship, Henry Morgenthau would have been president of United States if anything had happened to that ship. Byrnes rammed this home to Truman, and from Mid-Atlantic, Truman radioed Judge Rosenman to explain the situation to Morgenthau and ask him to step out of office immediately rather than wait for Truman's return from Potsdam the official announcement that Morgenthau had some important decisions which he thought Vinson should make was all poppycock. Actually Truman wanted Vinson to be President of the United States in case anything happened to him and Byrnes.

Morgenthau naturally was pleased. He had been quite willing to step out anyway, but he was delighted that Truman wanted to recognize his tireless pioneering for international economic stability.

Accordingly, Judge Rosenman prepared a statement for Truman's OK, making Morgenthau the permanent U. S. delegate to Bretton Woods. It was radioed to Truman immediately. But nothing happened. Truman never answered the radio. Perhaps Jimmy Byrnes sat on this idea, too. At any rate, Henry Morgenthau, who had been taken up on the heights and given a big promise, stepped out of office a sad and disappointed man.

SCHEDULE FIRST CERTIFIED TEST

Clanahan Will Inspect County Potato Fields Starting Monday

D. L. Clanahan, Marquette, U. P. crops specialist, and E. A. Wenner, Delta county agricultural agent, will start Monday to conduct the first inspection of certified potato fields in the county, Wenner announced yesterday.

Delta county is second highest in the state in the number of certified potato growers. There are 28 certified potato growers in the county, and the inspection of the fields is carefully conducted each season to determine whether the potatoes grown can be certified as to quality of the spuds produced for seed.

The schedule of inspections will start Monday morning and will continue through Thursday. Growers have been requested to be present at the time the inspection is being made.

Following is the schedule of inspections: Monday morning July 30—Clarence Sundquist, Jerry Fenlon, Arthur Blake farms. Monday afternoon—Adolph Lippens, Phil Lippens, Matt Ledvina, Nick Vanacker and Donna Barron farms.

Tuesday morning, July 31—Emil DeBacker, Jules VanDamme, H. Verbrigghe and Peter Jodocy farms. Tuesday afternoon—Fulgencz Falkies, Harold Woodward and Ted McFadden farms. The Grey Knaus certified seed oat field also will be inspected.

Wednesday morning, Aug. 1—Clayton Ford, Joe Steff, Octave Carrigan and John Marcella farms. Wednesday afternoon—Helmer Lepisto, Louis Heynnessen and Rene Verbrigghe farms.

Thursday morning, Aug. 2—Frank Barron, Reid Barron, Vincent Rappette and Berger Olin farms. Thursday afternoon—Hilding Olson, Alex Charon, Clarence Anderson, Anthony Skrobick and Adolph Gonsheki farms.

Stonington Boom Coming, Says Andy

BY ANDY P. OLAFSON

Well from the looks of it on the letters I been getting by Mail it looks like people getting impatient about building that Bridge across the bay to Stonington so here is one Letter I will answer up

Olafson

Dear Mr. Olafson Are you ever going to get that bridge done over to Stonington or is it just a lot of bunk? I have a boy friend over there and he has got only gasoline enough to drive all the way round the bay and come over here only once a week and then he has to leave so early to go back home I am not getting any place with him.

Please let me know if there is any hope as he is talking of joining the Navy and then I'm afraid I will lose out and no wedding bells. Let me know about the bridge or if it is just a pipe dream.

Hoping you are the same In haste, Miss

Well I have to Apologize to the young lady that the Bridge is not done for this Summer so she could get her man before the Navy did but we had to change the plans of it on acct. of Safety First and to keep it from being a Dangerous speed Way we are going to put three four curves on that Bridge & signs will say Slow Curve & when we get it done it will be a Regular Lovers Lane if the young lady which wrote the letter is the kind which can wait

And I under stand things is picking up at Stonington all ready and they are going to get Electrically power line there before long so we can have an electrically opener on the bridge for to let the boats get through it and more people is buying Farms over there and cottages and potatoes we expect a big crop this Fall so we hope for to get that bridge done in time to get the Potatoes over

Mrs. Rae Hooker,
Republican Head,
Is Here On Tour

Mrs. Rae C. Hooker, vice-chairman of the Republican State Central Committee of Women, arrived in Escanaba yesterday with companions during their tour of counties in the Upper Peninsula. The purpose of Mrs. Hooker's tour is to help in organizing Republican women into permanent committees as part of the county organization, and she is consulting with county Republican officials here.

Accompanying her is Mrs. K. B. Coleman, of Durand, secretary of the Michigan Federation of Young Republicans, and a member of the State Central Committee from the Eighth district. Mrs. Coleman is organizing county-wide Young Republican clubs, composed of men and women from ages 18 to 39 inclusive. She is the authorized organizer for the 15 Upper Peninsula counties and the northern half of the Lower Peninsula.

Mrs. Hooker has been an active Republican worker since 1932, when she was prevailed upon by Isabella county Republicans to join the party organization after she had made a stirring speech before them, stressing the necessity for Republicans putting party welfare above personal well-being.

She has been a member of the Executive Board of the Republican Women's Federation of Michigan, and in the 1944 fall campaign was especially active in behalf of both state and national tickets.

Mrs. Hooker is from Mt. Pleasant. She was married at 18, and is the mother of four children and the grandmother of nine. Mrs. Hooker says she was never too busy to play with her children and take them on picnics. Since they have been away from home, she has plunged into political activity, with the help and encouragement of her husband.

"Putting women's activity on a twelve-month basis is a new and important thing," Mrs. Hooker said, "because women are of necessity the backbone of a party, since they have more available time to work."

Mrs. Hooker and Mrs. Coleman will leave for Manistowick today, where they will consult with Republican workers.

Miss Williams And
Pvt. Meintz are
Wed At Marquette

At a wedding performed in St. Peter's cathedral at Marquette on July 24, Miss Bette L. Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Williams of Escanaba, became the bride of Pvt. Glen W. Meintz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Meintz, of Stephenson. The couple exchanged vows before the Rev. Fr. Joseph J. Dineen.

The bride wore a street length dress of aqua-blue silk crepe, with white accessories and a corsage of American Beauty roses. She was attended by Miss Anna Mae VanLister, of Escanaba, who wore a gold suit with white accessories and a corsage of yellow roses. Best man was Pfc. Edward Meintz, brother of the bridegroom. Following the ceremony, a wedding supper for the bridal party was served at the Northland hotel.

Mrs. Meintz attended St. Joseph high school, and was graduated in 1944. She is employed at the Blomstrom and Petersen jewelry store, and will make her home here for the present. Pfc. Meintz was graduated from the Stephenson high school in 1944, and was employed here at Wards before entering the service.

Miss Holmgren Is Bride of George
Kroon In New York

At a ceremony performed in New York City on July 25, Miss Mildred Holmgren of New York became the bride of George Kroon of Escanaba, son of Mrs. Hilda Kroon of Irwin, Pa. Before an altar banked with white flowers, the couple exchanged vows before Dr. Otto H. Bostrom at the Gustavus Adolphus Lutheran church.

The bride wore a gown of white lace, with full train, sweetheart neckline and long sleeves. Her finger-tip veil was gathered in a taria of white feathers, and she carried an old-fashioned bouquet of white roses and bouvardia.

Maid of honor was the bride's sister, Miss Ethel Holmgren. She wore a gown of ice-blue net, with matching taria, and carried an old-fashioned bouquet of yellow tulle roses. Bridesmaids were Miss Ruth Olson and Miss Mary Devaney, who wore gowns of yellow net with matching head-dresses, and carried nosegay bouquets. Paul Jernstrom was best man, and ushers were Paul Kroon and Ralph Hielm.

Following the ceremony, a wedding reception was held at 6:30, and a dinner for 46 guests was served on the roof saloon of the Gromery Park hotel. The couple left later for Escanaba, where the bridegroom is serving as theological student at the Bethany Lutheran church.

The bride is a graduate of Hunter College, New York City, and has been the secretary of the Gustavus Adolphus church of New York City for the past four years. After September, the couple will make their home in Rock Island, Ill., where the bridegroom will attend the Augustana Theological Seminary.

SELECT 24 FOR 4-H CLUB CAMP

Name County Boys, Girls
Who Will Make Trip
To Chatham

Twenty-four Delta county 4-H Club members, 17 girls and 7 boys, will leave Monday Aug. 6, for Camp Shaw at Chatham where they will spend four days sharing interesting programs recreation with other 4H Club members from the Upper Peninsula.

E. A. Wenner, county agricultural agent, who announced the list of boys and girls attending Camp Shaw, said the group will make the trip by bus Monday afternoon, Aug. 6. The bus will leave the state fair grounds at Escanaba at 1 p. m., stopping at Wells gas station, the Beauchamp home at Kipling, Rapid River high school and the gas station at Miner's spur road and US-41 enroute to Chatham.

The return trip will be made Friday morning, Aug. 10 with the same stops made on the return for the convenience of the boys and girls from various parts of the county.

Members who have been selected to attend Camp Shaw and are unable to go are requested to notify the county agent immediately, since there is a waiting list of other members who would like to attend if there is a vacancy.

For the stay at Camp Shaw girls are asked to take with them cotton school dresses or slacks, sweater and skirt if they have them, one better cotton dress for the 4-H club party; scissors, big needle, small paint brush, and a soft cloth for the craft class. Girls in the dress revue were reminded to bring their costume for the revue.

Boys will need old trousers or overalls, work shirts, and trousers and shirt suitable to wear at the 4-H Club party.

Supervision will include state and county club leaders and specialists, including a trained nurse.

Girls going to Camp Shaw are: Everal Jean Miron, Cornell; Leola Lancour, Rapid River, R. 1; Betty Rogers, Perkins; Dolores Ann Racicot, Schaffer; Leona Skrobiak, Bark River; Marcella Lundquist, Ensign; Virginia Cobb, Stonington; Rosemarie Fahey, Bark River; Helen Berg, Garden; Gloria Larson, Escanaba, R. 1; Alice Louise Terens, Bark River; Lois Gustafson, Alice Ann Niquette, Bark River; Phyllis Olson, Stonington; Nancy Jean Guertin, Garden; Carol Winchester, Wells; Marlene Constantino, Ensign.

Red Cross Seeking Many More Workers, Good Pay Offered

Openings for positions of social worker, recreation worker, and staff aide in the American Red Cross hospital service continued to remain unfilled despite the fact that the population of military hospitals is at an all-time high. L. J. Jacobs chairman of the Delta County Red Cross chapter, said yesterday.

Intensification of local efforts to bring to the attention of all eligible persons, even those living outside the community, the vital importance of filling these jobs as soon as possible, was urged by Jacobs. All local organizations are requested to bring the matter before their respective groups once again for the purpose of uncovering further prospects. Valuable service can be rendered by writing those individuals thought to be eligible even though they may have been already contacted, it was pointed out.

"Those of us on the home front certainly cannot regard our war job as well done if we fail to provide our wounded fighting men with all possible comforts and diversions during their hospitalization," Jacobs declared. "Medical officers over the entire country are practically unanimous in endorsing the Red Cross job in army and navy hospitals. This job must not be allowed to deteriorate for lack of needed personnel."

As an example of the importance of Red Cross work in hospitals, Jacobs cited the words of one commanding officer in an air corps hospital: "I consider the Red Cross activity in this hospital a vital part of the total program. Its workers have frequently been instrumental in hastening the convalescence of patients by freeing them of the worry of personal and family problems."

Of equal value is the performance of recreation workers whose responsibility is to organize recreation and entertainment for patients during the hours they are not occupied by the hospital program itself, according to Jacobs. They organize dances and parties, operate motion pictures, promote games and supervise arts and craft work. Frequently, their entertainment program for individual patients is coordinated with the medical and social work planning in order that it may hasten readjustment and convalescence. Staff aides assist both social workers and recreational workers in conducting their respective programs.

Jacobs called attention to continuing personnel requirements in over seas theatres for hospital workers, club and clubmobile workers, and assistant field directors. There is also a need, he said, for domestic assistant field director replacements to work in army and navy installations.

Persons interested in further information on job activities and qualifications are directed to inquire at the local Red Cross offices, 104 South Ninth street.

Major Robert Rader Wins Bronze Star

Paris, France—Major Robert M. Rader, of Hermansville, Michigan, has been awarded the Bronze Star for his work in the utilization of captured enemy equipment according to an announcement by Brig. Gen. Pleas B. Rogers, commanding general, Seine Section, European Theater of Operations.

Entering the army as an enlisted man in 1937, Major Rader was shipped overseas shortly after the United States entered the war. In July 1942 was given a direct commission as second lieutenant, and was assigned to the supply division of the Ordnance Office at London. Later he was Ordnance Officer of the General Base Section in London and in September, 1944, was sent to Paris, as assistant to the Assistant Chief of Staff G-4, of Seine Section, the organization which controls army activities in the Paris area.

Named as chief of the captured enemy materials branch, Major Rader laid plans for the utilization of captured German equipment and material so successfully that he was nominated for the Bronze Star. The citation reads in part: "His outstanding ability and efficiency resulted in the recovery of thousands of tons of enemy material which were essential for the support of military operations."

At present Major Rader is Deputy Assistant Chief of Staff G-4, Seine Section and plays an important role in directing the supply of troops in the Paris area. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Rader, of Hermansville.

Brazil's first school of chemical engineering is located at Sao Paulo, the country's industrial capital.

Communication

Gladstone, Michigan, July 27, 1945.
Communique From Stateside Editor,
Escanaba Daily Press
Escanaba, Michigan

Dear Sir:
It is with new-found disdain, as discovering a glamor-gal's wig and false choppers, that I view the pitiful civil laws of these great United States.

By the severest stretch of the imagination, by straining your powers of tolerance, by your moral sense of right and wrong, can you rectify the A-from-Izzard difference of being cheered on (by long distance), congratulated on the killing of human beings, and a few weeks later to be "jerked to justice" for the awful crime of carrying a loaded rifle in a car? Don't prate of duty, good citizenship and the other empty expressions of the genus bunko. When intelligent people are overwhelmed by the inconsistent, childish law missiles of an embryonic law in the form of a small army of gargantuan uniformed angels of justice, who don't know a full-choke from a red radish, then cheered on by these home-front "sojers" in the pursuit of world destruction and human suffering, one begins to wonder what's happened to the scales of morals supposed to inhabit the skull. At the time no one ever offered to tell me it was wrong to carry a loaded rifle in Belgium, Holland and Germany and to seek out animals of the genus homo for their express use as targets. There I had no permit, and no scroll of "small" timesome laws, but I had plenty of "push" from "way back to the tune of "let George do it." Then, "flushed with victory" as the eloquently-impulsive press loves to say, I came back enroute through the U. S. A., and once here, knuckles are rapped by the gavel for being in close company with a "sure-nuff" loaded rifle. Does it suffice to prove that I know more about rifles, loaded or unloaded, ballistics and kindred subjects than do a goodly share of our noble conservation-commands? Nay, the law is not elastic, considers nothing over and above its printed word; that, and the beautiful lung music of those who herald its justice.

But I'll cover a plugged peso with a Reno silver-cartwheel that when this flagrant law-violator scales the inclined-plane on some Jap-bound scow, dozens of healthy specimens would jostle each other in an eager attempt to fill his hands full of the "U. S. Rifle, caliber .30 M-1," whether said rifle is as empty as the heads of some "law-abidin'" citizens, or loaded to the gills, as I feel like getting now.

LT. TUMATH IN CRASH LANDING

Commended for Coolness In Landing Of Huge Bomber

Second Lieutenant Jack L. Tumath, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herb Tumath, Superior avenue, has been commended by M. F. Summerfelt, Colonel Air Corps, Commanding, for his action during an emergency landing.

The commendation directed to Lt. Tumath, reads in part: "It is a distinct pleasure to commend you on your performance of duty as Navigator on B-296402 on 22 June 1945. On this date, while practicing local runway localizer instrument landings, the left landing gear failed to extend and it became necessary to crash land the airplane at Tinker Field."

"Your coolness in this emergency and the high degree of skill with which you carried out your duties were of great assistance to your Airplane Commander and enabled him to land the airplane with no injury to the crew and a minimum amount of damage to the aircraft. You demonstrated outstanding crew discipline in the efficient manner in which you and the other crew members applied 2nd Air Force Emergency Standard Operating Procedures."

In writing his parents, Lt. Tumath described the incident thus:

"Our crew had another little experience Saturday only it wasn't so little this time. "It was about 2 o'clock in the afternoon and we were just flying around the field. The pilot was practicing instrument landings. We were coming in for our third landing when one of the gunners called up and said that the left landing gear wasn't down; so we circled the field again and tried to get it down. We thought sure that the auxiliary motor would get it down but that didn't work either so the pilot called Great Bend tower and asked for further instructions. They told us to fly to Oklahoma City where we could crash land. I gave the pilot the heading and then we all started preparing for a crash landing. We passed over a lake on our way down there so we opened the bomb-bay doors and dropped four bomb bay tanks full of gasoline. Also, I threw out our smoke bombs and flares that I thought might go off during the crash. We threw out everything that we thought might fly around and hit someone."

"We were supposed to land at 'Tinker Field' and when we got there they cleared the field and had ambulances and fire trucks waiting near the runway. "We all took our crash landing positions—mine was under my desk with my head between my knees (facing the rear of the plane) my hands clasped over my head and my feet braced up against my chair. "When we first hit the ground it wasn't any harder than a normal landing because the pilot kept the plane up on two wheels (the nose wheel and right wheel) (B-29 has three wheels) but then the left wing dropped to the ground and the two props on that side started banging the runway. We plowed dirt up a little bit on the left side and tore the wing up a little because I was sitting on the side that didn't have any gear. When the plane finally stopped we were all out of it in 15 seconds. I climbed out the engineer's escape hatch and ran away from the plane. We were afraid that it might catch afire and blow up but it didn't. There were about three colonels and a couple majors waiting for us when we got out. One major had taken movies of our landing. I'd sure like to see them."

"And to top it all off—General Doolittle was at the end of the runway watching us land too. We didn't see him but the colonel told us later that the general had said it was a very good landing. That night our commanding officer from Great Bend flew down in a B-17 and brought us back. The damage to the B-29 was estimated at $200,000.00, when!"

"Our crew is really proud of our pilot now—of course we were all the time anyway."

Commander of Slain Youth Writes Mother

Details of the death of Pfc. Rudolph Majestic have been received from John A. Paulikonis, Captain 27th Infantry, Commanding officer of the company of which Rudolph was a member, by the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Majestic, N. Fifteenth street.

The letter follows: "By this time you have probably been informed through the War Department of the death of your son, Rudolph T. Majestic. As commanding officer of the company in which he so ably served, I wish to extend sincere condolences to you in this, your hour of bereavement. I know that in these trying days you will bear this great sorrow with the same high courage that your son displayed in facing the enemies of our country, and with the same resignation to the will of God."

"Rudolph was killed instantly on the afternoon of 23 June 1945 by a sniper, while scouting out the ground ahead for an attack by the company on a strongly defended enemy position about 4500 yards south of Cauco Pass, Luzon, Philippine Islands. The next day he was laid to rest in the United States Armed Forces Cemetery at Santa Barbara, Luzon, Philippine Islands, with the highest military honors and his grave was blessed with a religious service.

"Though mere words of sympathy can be of little comfort, I do hope your grief will be allayed somewhat by the knowledge that your son lived a clean and Christian life, and that he unselfishly gave his life so that others could enjoy those freedoms that he believed to be right and just. I am certain that God, who is infinite in his judgment, will choose a fitting reward for a noble son.

"His passing is beyond consolation. As we carry on bringing this war to a successful conclusion you will always know that there is a tender spot in our hearts and memories for a gallant man, Rudolph T. Majestic."

Approximately 121 million pounds or 60,500 tons of vegetables were produced from the 226,000 wartime gardens of Canada in 1944.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our dearly beloved husband, father, son and brother Walter P. Johnson who died 3 years ago today, July 29, 1942:

Three years ago you smiled
And closed your dear blue eyes.
To sleep, perhaps in angels arms,
Who sing you lullabies.

Our broken hearts have memories
And dreams, when day is done.
Of how when life is finished here,
We'll be with you, our dear.

And it will be like coming home.
As we have done before.
To find you waiting, arms outstretched,
To greet us at the door.

Sadly missed by his loving wife,
Mrs. Bertha Johnson and children
Mrs. Ellen Johnson
Mrs. Jennie Hector
Hilding and Eddie Johnson.

The Pacific Reporter

—By Associated Press

Balikpapan, Borneo, (AP)—American Navy Seabees and Army Engineers kept supplies rolling to the Australian troops invading Southeastern Borneo by building pontoon wharves in quick order despite Japanese fire and heavy surf.

Three days after the Australians landed, four of these wharves were receiving cargo at the invader beachhead. Landing craft twisting through a reef channel and holes blasted through other underwater obstacles, pulled up to the wharves. They dropped their huge ramps and trucks, tanks and essential supplies poured ashore.

The 11th Seabee Battalion, some of them wearing welders' masks as they balanced themselves on the bobbing pontoons, completed the wharves to permit the quick deliveries.

Other Americans, of the 727th and 672nd amphibious tractor battalions, moved supplies forward up steep ridges from the docks.

Then the 672nd, known for its share in rescuing the American and other internees from the Japanese Los Banos camp on Luzon in the Philippines, ferried Australians across Balikpapan Bay in a shore-to-shore maneuver which captured Penadjan Point.

On that move, supplies and tanks were carried by squat, capable landing craft of a company, 593rd Engineers boat and shore battalion—the army's seagoing troubleshooters.

Australian field commanders gave full and unstinted praise to American support which permitted them to hit the main Japanese defenses on the nose and stay ashore.

In the day-to-day grind of battle, thousands of American boys did an excellent job in a campaign requiring as nearly perfect teamwork between allied forces as any in the Pacific conflict.

Guests at the William Edwards home are Mr. and Mrs. J. Hunt of Canadian Soo, Ont. Mr. and Mrs. Jack Warner of Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Butler received word of the birth of a daughter, Linda Lee to P/O and Mrs. Thomas R. Butler. The baby was born July 7 in Tacoma, Wash.

Mrs. Thomas Butler is making her home with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cooper, in Tacoma. Thomas is stationed at Lincoln, Nebraska.

NEW FOG HORN INSTALLED HERE

New Equipment To Have More Far-Reaching Sound Effects

A new fog horn system has been installed at the Manistique harbor, the installation having been completed Saturday. Walter Hanson, commanding officer of the local coast guard station announces.

The tone of the blast is the same as before, Mr. Hanson states, but the power has been upped many degrees and the intervals have been changed. Two blasts will be sounded at a two second interval and the next interval will be a full minute.

The equipment now installed is regarded as the very latest and it will have sound carrying effects that will be heard many miles farther than the equipment it replaces. Double horns will be used instead of the single one and the warning will therefore be shot in different directions. It will also have the advantage of starting on pressure. "The noise will probably be hard on some people, says Mr. Hanson, "but they'll get used to it. Besides, it's absolutely necessary for safety purposes."

Casper Eliason, a veteran coast guard man and a crew of department men from Chicago, installed the equipment.

Also added to the local coast guard equipment is a new cabin boat, equipped with a forty-horse power speed engine. This boat will replace an open boat of less power recently commissioned for this port.

Mrs. Adam Bauers left yesterday for Manitowish, Wis., to spend several days with relatives.

And Activity Through The Years

That the Manistique Lion's club has played an active part in the progress of Manistique and community is vouched for in a report given out this week by John I. Bellaire, who has served as the club's secretary for the decade of its existence just finished.

While the club lays no claim to having accomplished these things singlehanded, Mr. Bellaire states, it did, through the persistent efforts of its members and through the clubs well founded planning cause many things to come to pass which otherwise would have failed through lack of backing.

Highlighted among these achievements, according to the year, Mr. Bellaire lists the following:

1935-36—Sponsored junior safety patrols at five city schools. Took action to have coast guard station here. Sought to have Taquamen Falls designated as a state park. Sponsored the establishment of a state police station in Manistique. Sponsored a better homes and gardens contest.

1937-38—Entertained newly naturalized citizens. Painted Blindman's store. Raised $605 for a garden contest. Sponsored Christmas decorations contest. Assisted in drive for Boy Scout troop. Circulated petition for post office building. Raised $98 to provide candy for under privileged children for their Christmas. Kept plugging for a coast guard station. Secured $100 to advertise the Big Spring. Worked with other groups to secure passage of a bond issue for modern lighting, street paving and storm sewers. Inaugurate a movement to have a trailer park for city.

1938-39—Efforts helped secure appropriation for post office site. Sponsored President's Birthday Ball. Sponsored move to have Highway Department pave part of U. S. 2 in city from bridge to Fifth street. Sponsored three-day home coming celebration. The greatest event in the city's history. Sponsored a Boy Scout troop. Sponsored Christmas candy distribution for under privileged children.

1939-40—Helped secure PWA aid for new state police building. Sponsored trail park project. Sponsored placing latest type of boulevard lights along four streets. Sponsored band shell. Sponsored 2 skating rinks. Sponsored building on Triangle park site.

1940-41—Sponsored Upper Peninsula Lions club convention. Co-sponsored with Chamber of Commerce a blueberry festival. Sought and secured state conservation departments help in eradicating swimmers itch nuisance in Indian and Gulliver lakes. Sponsored CCC boxing tournament. Conducted city home decoration contest. Sponsored Christmas candy distribution.

1941-42—Club sponsored purchase of six drag nets for use at Indian lake when needed. Purchased gold cup for potato growers contest. Assisted Legion Auxiliary in purchase of automatic inhaler and resuscitator. Sponsored Yuletide program and free distribution of candy.

1942-43—Cooperated in local potato show. Bought glasses for a school child badly in need of them. Bought war bonds. Sponsored a food production program.

Off The Chest ...

BY JAY ARRELL

We've been wondering what Ralph and Ellen are telling the folks back home in Minnesota about Manistique. Not that our cars are burning—because we know that they had the time of their lives—but we are just a bit curious as to what impressions stayed with them after their four days' visit, which they said "passed like a dream."

Of one thing we are certain—they are telling their friends about the Big Spring and are showing them the post cards and pictures and accounts about it in the Lure Book and all the other literature gathered hit and miss. And we are just as sure that their friends are reacting to their enthusiasm with that polite interest people show when they fail to grasp what it all about.

We have never yet seen anything that so utterly defies description as Manistique area's Number One attraction. To define that peculiar green tint of its depths one would have to name a technical hue which might mean something to an artist or interior decorator but absolutely nothing to the average individual. To describe the way moss hangs from the submerged trees and the way the trunks, limbs and even the twigs are heavily laden with a grayish sediment, will only convey a suggestion of mussiness that actually does not exist. To describe the effect of lights and shadows on and in the water and the pretty sylvan setting will only present a picture that is common enough Erected sound detector on roof of chamber of commerce building.

1943-44—Assisted with civilian defense program. Sponsored a circus for blind and sight funds. Helped provide glasses for needy children. Sponsored Boy Scout activity. Bought war bonds.

1944-45—Sent gifts to members overseas. Sponsored Boy Scout activity. Bought War bonds. Promoted victory gardens. Entertained ration board. Host to outstanding potato growers. Entertained 10th district governor.

Luckless Reds Get It Again From Cubs; Tigers Bop White Sox, 8-3

ELEVENTH GAME IS DROPPED, 8-3

Contest Called By Rain With One Out In Last Of 8th Inning

Chicago, July 28 (AP)—If the Cincinnati Reds never get to see the Chicago Cubs again this year, it probably will be soon enough for Manager William (Deacon Bill) McKechnie.

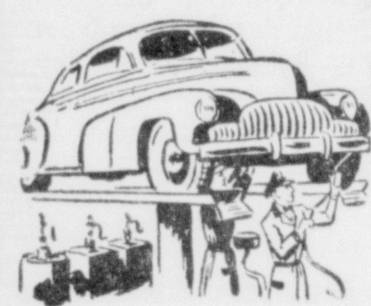

His Reds dropped their eleventh game of the season to the Cubs today, 8-3, in a game called by rain when one was out in the last of the eighth inning. Cincinnati has yet to beat Chicago in the current campaign, and today's win, before 12,308 fans, was the third straight of the current series which ends with a double-header tomorrow.

The Cubs jumped on Arnold Carter for two runs in the first inning as Big Paul Derringer, a former Red hurler, handcufted Cincinnati until the eighth. He eased up in that frame and gave the Reds three runs before he was rescued by Paul Erickson. It was Derringer's eleventh win of the year against six losses, and Carter's fourth loss.

False Economy --

Don't "save" at the expense of your car. It's false economy to drive "another hundred miles" or "another 30 days" on oil or grease that should be changed. One worn out part (if you can replace it) may cost much more than a complete lubrication job. It's real economy to use the good lubricants we have here.

THRILLS MARK SOFTBALL PLAY

Upsets Feature Week In League Play At Escanaba

Thrills, excitement and upsets marked last week's softball play as the Ford V-8s toppled Silver Front and a young St. Ann CYO knocked off the second-place White Birches. Last week also saw the return to action of two of the city's best ball players, Bert Goodreau and Nick Perle.

The Vikings defeated the Ford V-8s Monday night to spoil the National league tie but the Silver Front unwillingly cooperated by losing to the climbing Bird's Eye the following evening.

Peoples Hotel came from behind in the last inning to down Larmays, 10 to 8. A booming triple with the bases loaded, two out and a three-two count on the batter did the trick.

A gallant St. Ann CYO team, after losing most of their games this season, rose to new heights Wednesday night as they smothered the U. P. Class B champs from Flat Rock, 6 to 2.

Three good games are on the card for Monday night with the Viking-Ford V-8 contest holding the spotlight. Tuesday night the Vikings meet the Silver Fronts at the lighted field in the preliminary feature game.

On Wednesday night the Peoples Hotel plays St. Ann CYO at No. 2 diamond and the Silver Fronts meet the Bird's Eye at No. 4 diamond.

Bird's Eye meets the Ford V-8s in the first game at the lighted field Thursday night. The featured contest for that evening will be between Dagenais Grocery and the Iron Mountain Liberty Loans, 1944 Class A champions.

Schedule

Monday — Dagenais vs. White Birch at No. 2, Jensen; Larmays vs. St. Ann CYO at No. 1, Brown; Vikings vs. V8s at No. 4, Roman.

Tuesday — Vikings vs. Silver Fronts at lighted field, 7:30, Jensen and Brown; Larmays vs. Peoples Hotel at lighted field, 9:15, Jensen and Brown.

Wednesday — Peoples Hotel vs. St. Ann CYO at No. 2, Brown; Silver Front vs. Bird's Eye at No. 4, Roman.

Thursday — Bird's Eye vs. Ford V-8s at lighted field, 7:30, Roman and Jensen; Dagenais Grocery vs. Iron Mountain Liberty Loans at lighted field, 9:15, Roman and Jensen.

The Sports Parade

By Ken Gunderman

The Chicago Cubs, in the thick of a hot pennant race, made an important acquisition and a surprise one, at that, in the purchase of Pitcher Hank Borowy of the New York Yanks. The terms of the deal have not yet been disclosed because one or more Cub players involved must first be waived out of the National league by other clubs in the circuit. The best bet, however, is that the deal involved an outfielder because the Yanks have been scoring the country for a flychaser that could help them in their pennant scramble. The return of Red Ruffing to the Yankee lineup presumably made it possible for the Yanks to release Borowy.

Borowy has been one of the most effective right handers in the American league and his sale is something of a surprise in baseball circles, despite the fact that he had encountered difficulty going the nine inning route in recent weeks. At 27, he still is young enough to be of great value to the Cubs in the current pennant fight and for several years.

Escanaba Plays At Nahma Today; Steves vs. Upbays

The Escanaba Teensters baseball team, still unbeaten in the Teen league, will tackle Nahma at the Nahma diamond this afternoon while the Gladstone team meets Stephenson at Gladstone.

Last Sunday Escanaba defeated Stephenson in the first game of the second half of the schedule while Gladstone tripped Nahma.

Escanaba defeated Nahma twice this season, both games during the first half of the season, but the Sawmill Towners are out for revenge this time.

Ross or Scott will hurl for Escanaba.

EVERYBODY HITS IN BENGAL GANG

Trout Back After Injury And Illness; Detroit 4 Games In Lead

BY FRANK KENESSON
Detroit, July 28 (AP)—Every man in the Detroit lineup shared in a 17-hit attack off three Chicago pitchers today as the Tigers cuffed the White Sox 8 to 3, moving four full games out front in the American League.

Paul (Dizzy) Trout, handicapped by injury and sickness for two months, made his first start in nearly three weeks and stayed through to register his ninth pitching victory on a nine-hitter.

The Sox, who dropped out of a fourth place tie by losing, bunched four of their hits in the ninth inning for all their runs.

Detroit jumped on Orval Grove for three hits in each of the first three innings for a 5-3 lead and added two more runs off Lee (Buck) Ross and one off Left-hander Johnny Johnson.

Tilt Draws 11,651
Third Baseman Bob Maier, with a triple and two singles, and Catcher Bob Swift, with three singles, paced a Tiger offense that recorded at least one hit in each of the first seven frames. Maier and Swift each drove in two runs.

The game, attracting a crowd of 11,651 fans, brought Detroit's total home attendance for the year to 602,082 paid in 42 games.

Fielders Shine
Only once, on the second day of the season against St. Louis, have the Tigers rattled off more than the 17 safeties they gathered today. The game was a complete turnaround from yesterday's, which Detroit won 1-0 with only three hits.

All of Chicago's nine hits were bunched among the first five men in the batting order, Wally Moses, Roy Schalk, Johnny Dickshot and Tony Cucinello each collecting a pair of singles. Kerby Farrell's two-bagger in the third was the only extra-base hit off Trout, who fanned three men and walked none.

Infantile Paralysis Cases on Increase

Washington (SS) —Infantile paralysis cases increased throughout the nation during the week ending July 21. The total number reported to the U. S. Public Health Service here was 369. The total for the previous week was 294.

The 369 figure, however, is considerably below the 568 cases reported for the corresponding week last year.

States reporting the largest increases were New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Virginia, Massachusetts and Texas. Tennessee, where cases had begun to swing up, reported a slight decrease.

VETS COUNTER IS ESTABLISHED

Special Service Will Be Provided At Ration Board

To expedite service at the Delta county war price and rationing boards for servicemen and women, local veterans organizations have volunteered to staff a special veterans counter at the board headquarters, it has been announced.

The schedule of organizations to handle the veterans counter follows: Monday, Veterans of Foreign Wars; Tuesday, Disabled American Veterans Auxiliary; Wednesday, V. F. W. Auxiliary; Thursday, Red Cross; Friday, American Legion Auxiliary; Saturday, D. A. V.

A meeting of veterans organizations' representatives was held Friday evening at the rationing board, at which time plans were made for opening the veterans counter Monday.

The purpose of the special counter is to obviate the necessity of returning servicemen, home on furlough or discharged, from standing in line for the processing of ration applications.

Obituary

JOSEPH GEROUX

The body of Joseph Geroux, pioneer Perkins resident who died Friday, will be taken from the Alto funeral home to the family home at Perkins at 2 o'clock this afternoon. Funeral services will be held at 9 a. m. Monday at St. Joseph's church, Perkins, with the Rev. Fr. Alphonsus Cousignard officiating. Burial will be in the Perkins cemetery.

CARL NORVAL

Funeral services for Carl Norval were held yesterday afternoon at the Anderson funeral home, the Rev. Birger Swenson of the Calvary Baptist church officiating. Mrs. Leslie Haring sang "God Understands," and C. Arthur Anderson sang "Beyond the Sunset," both accompanied by Miss Ruth Johnson.

Pallbearers were Charles Tolan, Joseph Gardner, Kevin Murphy, Ed Finn, Robert Kamrath and N. E. Vandenberg. Burial was in the family lot at Lakeview cemetery.

Attending the funeral from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. Donald C. Norval and Miss Helen D. Norval of Minneapolis; Mrs. Olga Miller, Rockford, Ill.; Julius Norval, Milwaukee; Mrs. August Beck, Mrs. Kenneth Bisbee, Mrs. Vera Hoppe and Melvin Bergstrom of Detroit; Mrs. Lloyd Miller, Manistique; Mrs. Harry Norval and Mrs. Martha Mashek of Menominee; and Mrs. Olga Anderson of Kimberly, Wis.

Judge Arold Murphy Injured In Accident

Marquette Circuit Judge Arold F. Murphy suffered a fracture of the left leg below the knee cap in a car accident at 1 a. m. today on Marinette avenue, Marinette, as he was returning from Oconto where he held court Friday.

Judge Murphy's car was struck by a car driven by Stanley Zakrzewski, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Zakrzewski, Peshtigo R. 2, who recently returned from the European theater after 2½ years overseas.

The accident occurred on Marinette avenue in the 1800 block where sewer repair work barricades are in the middle of the street and traffic is routed on either side. Judge Murphy was driving toward Marinette on the east side and Zakrzewski was driving from Marinette on the west side, but as he approached the

News From Men In The Service

Cpl. Noel Derouin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mose Derouin, who was wounded in action on Okinawa, has received the Purple Heart, he has informed his parents.

Derouin removal of an arm gland.

Donald A. Maynard of Nahma, M. M. 2/c of the Seabees, is now stationed somewhere in the South Pacific after being forty days at sea.

Excerpts from his letter follow: "We are now at our destination. I am writing this sitting in my tent and it is cool this a. m. although later on in the day it gets pretty hot at times."

"Well I can say something of our trip out here. We went through the Marshall and Caroline Islands. Stopped off at Mag-mag in the Caroline and it was pretty nice to get on land there. We were on ship about forty days and sure tired of it. When we got here we had all our mail waiting for us and I had thirty-eight letters and it sure was good to read the news from home and know that all is well there. No Press as yet but it takes time to come out this far."

"Gabriel Heater was right about the Seabees working out here. They really go to town. We have a lot to do. Cleaning up some dead Japs and have to bury them and fix our living quarters. We are setting up some large five men tents. Will be much more room and cleaner. We made some shower baths in the side of a hill out of shell casings and had by first bath yesterday in fresh water in 42 days. It is really rough out here now. All we have to be careful of are snipers and tropical diseases."

Pety Officer Maynard spent a 30 day furlough with his family in February at their home in Nahma. After returning to the states from fourteen months in the North Atlantic at a base in Newfoundland. He received extensive training at a naval base in California before leaving for the South Pacific.

Mrs. Hanna Carlson of 1010 First Avenue North received word from her son, Pfc. Robert C. Carlson, of the army amphibious engineers of the 7th Army in Als-bach, Germany that he has received the Presidential Citation for being able to get supplies to the front safely. Robert landed in France on D-Day. Due to intense

Maj. Edward Wagner Head Of Induction Center, Drops Dead

Milwaukee, Wis.—Major Edward R. Wagner, 45, commander of the armed forces induction centers, 234 N. Broadway, died suddenly Friday in the center following two heart attacks, according to Capt. Earl S. Davis, medical officer, who said Major Wagner had not complained of feeling ill.

Major Wagner returned this morning from Marquette, Mich., after processing men from the Upper Peninsula and suffered a slight attack at 9 a. m., followed by the fatal attack at noon. He will be succeeded here temporarily by Capt. William C. Brittain, adjutant.

Major Wagner, a native of Forest Park, Ill., was a veteran of World War I, enlisting in March, 1917, as a private and serving overseas with the 131st Infantry of the 33rd Division. After the war he became active in the Illinois National Guard and was recalled to active duty on April 9, 1942, as a captain.

He was assigned to the Milwaukee induction center a week later as adjutant and executive officer. He was promoted to major in June, 1943, and assumed command of the center in October. He also served as commandant of the Army Specialized Training program at Marquette university.

Dance Scheduled At Recreation Center

A "Get-Acquainted" dance for all young people, 12 to 17 years old, will be held at the City Recreation Center on South Fourteenth street at 7:15 p. m. Tuesday, July 31.

The dance will be sponsored by the four City Playgrounds whose directors will be on hand to keep the party going. An interesting program with fun for all is planned. There will be a floor-show featuring local talent, mixers and folk dances—a wonderful opportunity for the boy who doesn't know how to dance but wants to learn, and the girl who is a good teacher! Everyone is invited and promised a good time whether he comes alone, with a partner, or with a gang.

All those wishing to attend the party should meet at their local playgrounds at 7:00 p. m. Tuesday and from there go in a body to the Center on Fourteenth street. The playgrounds are at Junior high, Ludington Park, Royce Park and Webster.

There will be no admission.

Consider The Many Abesto Advantages

1. Applied cold — Abesto requires no heat, eliminating hot kettles and saving valuable man-hours.
2. Abesto is resistant to oxidation which is the secret of its long-lasting quality. It is a cold tempered alloy of the finest, soft synthetic asphalt combined with exclusive base formulas.
3. Abesto is extremely adhesive. It will bond to a roof and seal layers of roll roofing together tightly.
4. Abesto "cures" retaining its elasticity. It will not crack or check in cold weather and will not liquify or run in summer heat.

We will be glad to furnish upon request our specification sheets designed to show the various types of construction for which Abesto is used.
